can christians and churches be both catholic and reformed in this volume two accomplished young theologians argue that to be reformed means to go deeper into true catholicity rather than away from it their manifesto for a catholic and reformed approach to dogmatics seeks theological renewal through retrieval of the rich resources of the historic christian tradition the book provides a survey of recent approaches toward theological retrieval and offers a renewed exploration of the doctrine of sola scriptura it includes a substantive afterword by j todd billings five hundred years ago the reformers were defending doctrines such as justification by faith alone the authority of scripture and god's grace in salvation some to the point of death many of these same essential doctrines are still being challenged today and there has never been a more crucial time to hold fast to the enduring truth of scripture in reformation theology matthew barrett has brought together a team of expert theologians and historians writing on key doctrines taught and defended by the reformers centuries ago with contributions from michael horton gerald bray michael reeves carl trueman robert kolb and many others this volume stands as a manifesto for the church exhorting christians to learn from our spiritual forebears and hold fast to sound doctrine rooted in the bible and passed on from generation to generation groans of the spirit constitutes a rousing challenge to mainline churches and their practice of preaching in this inventive work timothy slemmons calls preachers beyond the formalism of the new homiletic and beyond the ethical proposals that have arisen in the frustrated struggle to transcend it and toward what the author calls a penitential reformed homiletic this new homiletical proposal is distinctive in that it faithfully adheres to the christological content of preaching finds its inspiration in the promise of the real presence of christ and trusts in the ministry of the holy spirit from whom alone the power for the renewal of the mainline church shall come this book includes a thorough reconsideration of the infinite qualitative difference between god and humanity in barth's thought an important critique of gadamer's reception of kierkegaard's concept of contemporaneity an undelivered lecture on the content of preaching and two sermons that illustrate slemmons's important proposals groans of the spirit is a long considered calculated and overdue break with conventional hermeneutics that proposes a vital homiletical pneumatology which draws the art of the sermon out of the ghetto of mere rhetoric and presents it as it truly is as theological reflection of the first order the church's primary language of faith
